

Fryday

Andrew Westerdale

Last Sunday, the Fourth East kitchen turned into a fried food haven. Slugs filled the kitchen to embrace the glory fried food. Nothing in the kitchen that looked remotely edible was spared from frying. Onion rings, potatoes, corn dogs, corn sausages, corn corn, apples, garlic bread, cheese sticks, broccoli, oreos wrapped in cookie dough, cadbury eggs wrapped in cookie dough, and funnel cake were made. A great time was had by all. One slug had to say of the event: "At it's not Indian food."

DONLAN FAC?

Nate Pallo

Many slugs received a carbon-copy of an email sent to DONLAN requesting their presence at Cocoa on a date and time of their choosing. However, the many of mystery of the DONLAN crew, osptony, stated that he'd rather do something more towards the likes of DRS time. This lead to Lord Helton's suggestion of doing a DONLAN FAC. If you have any opinion on how this DONLAN issue should be taken care of, please file a request with 4e-chairs@mit.edu.

Boyd & BoydClone

Nate Pallo

Boyd and his clone from Tetazoo, sometimes called Roger or Robert in real life, were seen psetting in stevearc's room on Monday. Due to their odd similarity in appearance, they can apparently work together on the same pset. Last year, telling the two apart became a challenge because BoydClone wore a beard on the lower part of his face, and the two of them would sometimes confuse themselves with each other. If you happen to have a class with RogerBert (like 8.03), you may partake in quiet self-amusement of being near not-Boyd, though commenting on the situation to the people around you is unnecessary and will make you the likes of a twat.
